GUEST LIST

4th March CLAIRE MANN

Claire comes from Newcastle upon Tyne and has established herself as one of the leading exponents of Traditional Irish flute, fiddle, tin whistle and song. Winner of many musical awards in Ireland and the UK she now captivates audiences world-wide.

11th March BACK 'O THE MOON

Back of the Moon are a young band already causing a stir on the Scottish folk scene. The line up features pipes and fiddle with a solid guitar-piano rhythm section. With Gillian Frame on fiddle and vocals we have one of the finest young musicians in Scotland fronting the band. Beside her we have Simon McKerrall and the Napier brothers, Hamish and Findlay.

18th March FIONA FORBES & SANDY STANAGE

Fiona was described by Sheena Wellington as 'one of her favourite traditional singers' ..praise indeed for this wonderful singer from Fife. She is accompanied by Sandy Stanage who is no stranger to Glenfarg. One of the finest guitar players around today with his latest album has received critical acclaim.

25th March KINRICK

Kinrick.. traditional songs, contemporary songs and self penned songs, fine harmonies and a whole music shop of instruments. What more could a 'folkie' want. Not to be missed.

1st April ROSIE MORTON

Rosie is a fine singer and Clarsach player from Edinburgh. Her style is driven by pipe and fiddle tunes, but she also ventures into the historical repertoire of the Clarsach or more modern styles such as jazz.

8th April MARTIN WYNDHAM-READ

Martin first developed his interest in folksongs in Australia's outback during the 1960s. He is now one of the most engaging performers you're ever likely to see with a combination of song and humorous bush poetry and stories. Once you've heard him you'll be booking the next flight to Oz.

15th April FOLK FEAST SURVIVORS SESSION

Anybody left standing after the weekend's activities is welcome to come along and sing, play or just listen.
