GUEST LIST NOV – DEC 2010

Unless otherwise stated, events take place in
The Glenfarg Hotel, Glenfarg, Perthshire
Starting at 8.30 pm

Dear members and visitors.

We have now returned to our usual venue of the downstairs Terrace Bar, and very smart it looks too following its refurbishment. We hope you will be able to join us soon. We have a terrific programme to take us through to the end of the year to tempt you out for a night good of music and great company.

Monday 1st November

Members £9, Non-members £12

The McCalmans

Scotland's foremost folk trio are on their final tour. Formed in 1964, their performance is based on great voices, wonderful harmonies, and a respect for the Scottish song tradition — and of course a good dose of humour! They are Ian McCalman, Nick Keir and Stephen Quigg.

NB. Tickets from Hugh Hoffman on 01337 831403

Monday 8th November

Members £5, Non-members £8

Paul O'Brien

Originally from the UK, Paul now lives in Canada where his experiences as an immigrant, his natural instinct for humour and storytelling, and his empathy for the underdog have combined to produce an insightful and entertaining artist. Paul has recorded four solo albums and has performed at concerts and festivals around the world.

Monday 15th November

Members £5, Non-members £8

Fil Campbell & Tom MacFarland

Fil and Tom, from Northern Ireland, are regular and popular visitors to Glenfarg. Fil sings a fine mix of traditional Irish material as well as her own songs. Her 'Songbirds' TV series celebrated the work of leading Irish female singers from the 1940s to 1960s. Her performance is enhanced by Tom's percussion accompaniment.

Monday 22nd November

Members £5, Non-members £8

Tom Kitching & Gren Bartley

Tom Kitching and Gren Bartley are one of the brightest young acts on the folk scene today. Playing music from a broad range of sources, their new album 'Boundary' crosses genres with a healthy disdain for arbitrary pigeon-holing of styles and traditions.

Monday 29th November

Entry £3 all

Sandy Watt Quaich

Our annual singing competition is held in the memory of Sandy Watt who would sing any kind of song whether traditional, modern, bothy ballad or a song of the sea. Many well known names have been winners in previous years — here is your chance to join them. Anything goes!

Monday 6th December

Members £5, Non-members £8

Jim Malcolm

A long time friend of Glenfarg and almost a local lad, Jim is one of Scotland's top singers and songwriters. He has sung with Old Blind Dogs though he is now more often found as a solo performer. His recent DVD 'A Bard Hair Day', which celebrated Robert Burns 250th anniversary, was recorded before an audience packed with Glenfarg Folk Club members!

Monday 13th December

Members £5, Non-members £8

Dennis Alexander & Dave Vernon

Dennis is a great entertainer with songs old and new delivered in his own inimitable style. Dave is a wonderful box player. Be prepared for great music and a lot of laughs, just what we need on a cold winter's night.

Monday 20th December

Entry £3 all

Seasonal Sing around

Come and join us for some hot mince pies and seasonal songs in an informal setting.

Monday 27th December & Monday 3 January

Club closed

We wish season's greetings to all members and friends. The club re-opens on 10th Jan 2011.
